WÓDKA

KRAKÓW · POLAND

Cold bottle. Cold stone. Cold rye.

MICRO BUFFET · 14 M²

WHAT IT IS

A fourteen-metre cellar with forty bottles and one elder.

WÓDKA is a micro-buffet in Kraków's Kazimierz — a brick-vaulted cellar, a cedar counter, forty hand-labelled bottles, three stools, one standing guest. Pan Józek pours. You drink standing.

A shot is 50 ml, served cold. A shot comes with a slice of dark rye and a sour pickle. You pay in cash. You leave through the same door you came in. You come back.

THE OWNER

Pan Józek.

Forty-four years behind the counter. Apprenticed to his father in Nowa Huta. Opened WÓDKA in the cellar in 1982. Knows which bottle is yours before you point.

ROLE

owner · sole bartender · four nights a week

HIS HANDS

frosted glass · 50 ml pour · rye + smalec + ogórek

Kazimierz · Kraków · 2026. Documentary portrait.

THE MOMENT

One shot. One pickle. One walk home.

He came in cold and came out warm. He paid 18 złotych and left a 2-złoty coin on the counter. He won't tell anyone about the cellar. He will come back on Friday.

WHAT HE PAID

18 zł vodka · tip 2 zł · 20 zł total

WHAT HE KEPT

one slow night · one pocket flask · a quiet story

Kazimierz · Kraków · 2026. Documentary frame.

Three guests, one counter.

Who steps down the two stone steps into Pan Józek's cellar.

PERSONA 01

The Kazimierz regular.

Retired metalworker, 60s, lives three streets away. Thursdays after chess, always the żubrówka. Pays cash. Leaves 2 zł.

VISITS: every Thursday
TICKET: 16 zł żubrówka

PERSONA 02

The quiet couple.

Married twenty years, come once a month after dinner at their parents'. Two wiśniówka, one rye board between them, one story they won't tell the kids.

VISITS: monthly
TICKET: 44 zł wiśniówka + rye

PERSONA 03

The curious traveller.

Two-night Kraków trip, read about WÓDKA in a Polish culture magazine. Books nothing, just arrives at 20:00, takes the last stool, one shot, one photo of the shingle.

VISITS: once, on holiday
TICKET: 16 – 22 zł

How they find the walnut shingle.

Five quiet ways a guest arrives at ul. Józefa 17.

What could go wrong — and what we do about it.

Five honest failure modes for a single-counter Kraków cellar.

RISK	DESCRIPTION	SEVERITY	HEDGE
ELDER ILLNESS	Pan Józek IS the cellar. If he is sick, the door stays shut.	HIGH	an apprentice nephew on call one night a month, with Pan Józek's recipe book
LICENSE RENEWAL	Polish alkohol licencja must be renewed yearly with hygiene audit	MID	all 40 bottles ≤40% ABV at-counter · 10% buffer on the fee · annual early filing
TOURIST NOISE	neighbours complain about laughter on the cobblestone at 01:00	MID	close 01:00 sharp · one pack of linen-lined bags for quiet exit · friendly Józefa 15 relations
SUPPLY VARIANCE	small Polish distilleries batch-vary, some bottles scarce	LOW	40 bottles means 35 solid + 5 rotating experimental · tasting notes kept
COUNTER CAPACITY	eight stools × four nights is the firm ceiling for one elder	MID	no reservations, no walk-ins past 23:30, closed Sun–Tue, rest-week every sixth month

Small cellar, honest math. No risk pretends not to exist.

Cold bottle. Cold stone. Cold rye.

1. One counter. One elder. One pour.
2. The shot is fifty millilitres, not more, not less.
3. Rye and ogórek come with the shot. Free, always.
4. We do not mix. We do not shake. We do not stir.
5. We do not take cards. The cash-box is brass.
6. We close at one. Pan Józek has a wife.
7. You stand. The stool belongs to the next guest.
