— one photograph per week, Sunday 10h. Waffle + a single Polish word. Never stock, never filter.

Chalkboard

— rewritten every morning at 08h with the day's three variants. The menu is the weather.

Word-of-mouth · neighbours

— Free waffle to anyone named Halina on 18 August (St. Helen's day, Mokotów tradition).

Letterpress card

— slipped into every takeaway, thanking the customer in Polish, signed by hand. No QR, no social handle.

1	Cast-iron station slows on winter mornings	Pre-heat from 07:30, two irons in rotation
2	Flour price volatility (Mazury stone-mill)	3-month forward purchase, €250 reserve
3	Tourist spike overwhelms 13 m²	No queue inside — number-on-card outside, wooden bench for the wait

33 · GOFRY 7

We do not call it breakfast, or brunch, or dessert.
A waffle is a small patience — four minutes of cast-iron, one bowl of batter resting since morning, six possibilities on a chalkboard.
We bake one at a time, the way Babcia did.
If you are in a hurry, we are not for you.
