THE BARBER

Rui.

Twenty-two years on Alfama's side streets. Learned at his father's chair in Graça. One customer, one conversation, one beer.

ROLE
owner-operator · single chair · 5 days open

HIS HANDS
straight razor · hot towel · 40-minute shave

Lisbon, Alfama · 2026. Documentary portrait.

THE MOMENT

Forty minutes, one cold beer, a different man.

The shave is not about the beard. It's about the forty minutes of being nowhere else, nothing else, and the quiet beer that marks the door.

WHAT HE PAID

€35 full ritual · €5 Super Bock · €40 total

WHAT HE KEPT

a slow afternoon · a clean jaw · a stool at the chair

Three men, one chair.

Who climbs the three steps from the lane into Rui's shop.

PERSONA 01

The Lisbon regular.

Late 40s, works nearby, walks past the door twice a day. Comes every third Friday for a quick neck-line and a Super Bock.

VISITS every 18 days
TICKET €22 trim + €5 beer

PERSONA 02

The slow ritualist.

30s, creative, books the 40-minute straight-razor shave once a month. Treats the chair as a quiet room, pays in full, stays for the second beer.

VISITS monthly
TICKET €35 shave + €10 beers

PERSONA 03

The curious traveller.

On a four-day Lisbon trip, found the cobalt door on Instagram, wants a story. One shave, one beer, one photo of the tiled wall he'll remember.

VISITS once in a lifetime
TICKET €35–€55 + beer

How they find the blue door.

Five ways a customer arrives at Rua do Salvador, 18.

WALK-PAST	cobalt azulejo facade visible from the tram stop	35%
WORD OF MOUTH	regulars send friends, each introduced on first beer	28%
INSTAGRAM	@barba.azul · stropping reels, door portraits, Alfama light	18%
GOOGLE MAPS	“barbershop alfama straight razor’ · 4.9 stars	12%
HOTEL CONCIERGE	five partner hotels in Alfama + Graça recommend	7%

No ads. No discounts. The door does the advertising.

· @barba.azul · IG · hand-painted shingle · 5 concierge partners

What could go wrong — and what we do about it.

Five honest failure modes for a single-chair Alfama shop.

1. OWNER ILLNESS	one chair means one pair of hands. If Rui is out, the shop is dark.	HIGH	partner barber on call, 2 days/month guest chair rotation
2. RENT ESCALATION	Alfama landlords re-price every 3 years, tourist pressure.	MID	5-year lease signed at fixed index, option year 6
3. ALCOHOL LICENSE	Super Bock tap requires yearly alvará renewal and hygiene audit.	MID	beer served free with service, not a separate sale; optional
4. TOURIST CONCENTRATION	heavy seasonal swing, August spike, January trough.	MID	regulars anchor weekday economics; traveller is the cream
5. CHAIR DOWNTIME	a single Koken breakdown costs a week of shaves.	LOW	backup cape + stool + folding chair; repair kit in cabinet

Small shop, honest math. No risk pretends not to exist.

Planning ranges. Not a promise of outcome. Lisbon, 2026.

We are not in a hurry.

1. One chair. One barber. One beer.
2. Forty minutes is not a product. It is a room.
3. The cobalt door will look the same in twenty years.
4. We do not discount the shave. It is already priced honestly.
5. The second beer is on the house, because the conversation is.
6. We close on Sundays. The barber rests.
7. Alfama is not a backdrop. It is the shop.
